Foreword

IN THIS, the sixth volume of the A. R. C., it has been the purpose of the Annual Staff to record the happy remembrances of our days at Old Richmond. If, in later years, a member of our class turns these pages with a feeling of pride, and thrills with the recollection of his friendships and relations here, we shall feel that our work has not been in vain, but that our book will live forever.

TUBMAN

Tubman

"Give us a name to fill the mind
With the shining thoughts that lead mankind,
The glory of learning, the joy of art,—
A name that tells of a splendid part—"

DIFFICULT, indeed, would it be to find an answer more applicable to the lines above than. "Tubman!" Impossible, indeed, would it be to find a person who would fail to do homage to this splendid institution—to its wonderful ideals and traditions, to its capable faculty and directors, and to its charming student body.

Certainly there are few who realize this more fully than do the boys of A. R. C., and to you, fair Tubman, we would pay tribute. We desire to express to you our deepest respect and admiration. We like you! For your co-operation and support in all of our united efforts, we thank you. For your friendship and loyalty, we worship you. For your many charms, we adore you! You are, indeed, an inspiration to us in all that we undertake. Your ideals and standards we shall always cherish. In truth, yours is "a name like a star, a name of light," whose brightness and glory leads us, thrills us, and fills us with the desire to accomplish something worthy of your commendation. To you we tender our deepest thanks, to you we offer our sincerest hope for your success in all of your endeavors, and to you we pledge our heartiest support and co-operation.

May our friendship be everlasting!

Serenade

Come with me, Love, while the night-winds are blowing,
Let us go forth where the cool stream is flowing;
There let us sit while the soft stars are glowing—
Come with me, Love, O come.

There where the mocking-bird sings by the wayside,
There with the flickering moonlight upon him,
While o'er the little stream softly the ripples glide—
There let us sit while the moon grows dim.

Then while the starlight upon us is gleaming
I will pour forth all my love unto thee.
Oh, if love's star in your bright eye is beaming,
The stars in the heavens no fairer will be.

Come then with me, Love, come then with me!
Tell me, O tell me, my true love you'll be!
You'll be my true love, and I'll be thine—
Nothing can part us while the stars shall shine.

Uncle Bill

He teaches school and lives on the hill
And he is known to the boys by the name of "Bill."
At school he teaches day and night
That every one may learn what they might.

One thing he likes to do is to mark you off
For the least little thing, a sneeze or a cough,
If you do not get there at the stroke of nine
You are most likely to get sixty minutes' time.

In the first period he favors "Lap" Cohen,
While he gives the dickens to Dudley Bowen,
Whom he shrieks at in numerous tones
And then says, "Take up the papers, Jones."

One of his sayings every day
Is, "Skinner, I saw your pa yesterday."
Some times Mr. Kennedy preaches a tardy sermon,
And again he jokes with "Egg Boy" Sturman.

He gets after Mac for being late
And for making the class wait
A minute or two while we're having a test.
But goloshes! Who is the pest?
I wonder!

Desire

I.

Oh! How I long for the old days,
And Oh! How I wish they were back.
For the ways I want are the old ways,
Not the present-day world and the things that it lacks.

II.

Music and books are my only joy now;
In them I find all that is dear,
For I'm trying my best not to cry or to frown,
And I'm doing my best with whatever comes near.

III.

For there is, when you think of it, after all,
No cause for tears or regret.
If you'll just have the grit to get up when you fall,
You'll never get left in the cold or the wet.

IV.

Imagination will overcome years,
And take you back to the days of yore.
So if you are ever beset by fears
Then let your mind open wide the sweet door.

V.

Which leads to memories long passed by:
The ones most sweetest and dear,
Those over which you once had a good cry,
Or maybe you shed just a tear.

VI.

But perhaps there were some that were not quite so sad;
Maybe you've had a good laugh over some.
If that is the case, then I think that you've had
For the present, at least, quite enough for your mon'.

VII.

So just as a closing reminder,
I'll wish everybody good luck;
And I hope that you all will soon find her—
You know who I mean,—Lady Luck.

—Wylton Lucky.

MACPHERSON WILLIAMS

If "all the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players," then Mac could occupy a unique role—that of utility as well as leading man. He has been a football mainstay for three semesters, and track star since the mind of man runneth not to the contrary. He is, or was, Big Cheese in practically everything, and well did he deserve this honor.

The Academy loses one of its best men, but Tech's stock goes up fifty points.

Noted: Private, 1, 2; Corporal, 3; First Lieutenant, 4; Captain, 5; Class President, 3, 4, 5; Company Football, 2; Varsity Football, 3, 4, 5; Company Basket Ball, 5; Track, 2, 3; Captain Track, 4, 5; President Richmond Senate, 5; Advertising Editor, "Are," 5.

EMIL ADOLPH SACK, JR.

Technical

Adolph is one of, if not the most versatile boy that Richmond has yet seen. A glance at his honor list will show his studiousness, while he is noted as one of the school's most devilish freshmen. He was a football sensation as a half, and the best running guard that the basket ball team has ever had. Last spring he won his track "R" and is certain to repeat this year. In tennis we are sure that he will make his quartet of letters secure. Besides all these, he is one of the most popular boys in the school and a social lion.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4; First Lieutenant 5; High Honors, 2, 3; Honor, 4. All Battalion Football, 3; All Regimental, 4; Varsity, 5; Varsity Basket Ball, 5; Vice-President, 5; Assistant Art Editor, 4; Art Editor, 5; President Tennis Club, 5; Track, 4, 5; Tennis, 5.

JOHN WOOLFORK WALKER, JR.

Science, General

Johnnie learned his A, B, C's at Central School, and how he got into Richmond is a mystery, but he's here and we must make the best of it. Johnnie is rather a notable in the Senior Class, being a major in the military department, with an unlimited supply of military knowledge—and Editor-in-Chief of this Annual. Besides this, he is one of the most popular members of the Senior Class.

We're all for you, Johnnie.

Noted: Honor, 3; High Honor, 1, 2; Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Captain, 4; Major, 5; Company Football, 3, 4; Class Vice-President, 1; President, 2; Secretary, 5; Business Manager, The A. R. C., 4; Editor-in-Chief, 5; Senate.

WILLIAM FREDERICK EVE CABANISS

Technical

A solemn, brooding visage next appears on our roll. The cares of a nation seem to hang over this dignified Senior. In other words, it is William Cabaniss, Business Manager of the Annual, track star, company football marvel, student manager of various teams, and possessor of a host of other honors.

Billy is one of the best boys we have yet known. As a friend, you couldn't find a better, and we would hate to have him as an enemy. Wherever he goes, we are sure he will succeed, for he is passing well gifted.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Lieutenant, 4; Captain, 5; Student Manager, Football and Basketball, 5; Track, 3, 4, 5; Class Treasurer, 5; Business Manager the A. R. C., 5; Advertising Manager, The A. R. C., 4; Senate.

The A R C

OSCAR THEODORE ADAMS

Commercial

Oscar, commonly known as "Otey Walker," due to his good looks, is the haughty Captain of A Company. He is quite a military genius, this being his second year as Captain. He is one of Uncle Bill's pets and can often be seen in argument with the said Uncle.

"Otey" goes on a "Pilgrimage" up to New York every summer, and we suspect there must be some fair dame, especially since he sent an "A. R. C." to the far North.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Captain 4; Captain, 5; Company Football, 4, 5.

EARL LEROY BABBITT

Technical

Earl, like Pee Wee, is always merry. His greatest delight is to worry Mr. Markert in Analyt. Babbitt is a firm believer in a universal language, and his introduced such words as "Yawsa" and "Sawmpul." He is a great athlete, being a proud wearer of the letter M. He was a member of the Consolidated Hot Dog Trust in the Chemistry Lab, which failed, owing to disclosures made by "The Cousin."

Earl is headed for Tech and we wish him the best o' luck.

Noted: Private, 1, 2, 3, 4; Sergeant, 5; Company Football, 4, 5; Company Basketball, 5.

JOSEPH ALBERT BAIN

Technical

Bain was delivered to us by some mysterious boarding school at Sheron, Ga., and in spite of a few breakdowns, such as F31 and F42, he is still in good working order. Albert is very witty and keeps us turning in our seats to laugh at his remarks. As a Chemist he is a genius, having already discovered a new element which he has named "Kalkyum." He tells us that he is going to Tech. We're with you on that, Albert, and wish you success.

Noted: Private, 1, 2, 3, 4; Corporal, 5.

ALLEN ALEXANDER BEASLEY

General

Allen's highest ambition is to be the leading "Pill Roller" of Augusta. He often answers tests by scribbling freakish, druggist formulas instead of answering the questions properly. Allen attends church regularly every Sunday, and we expect to see him made a deacon soon.

Noted: Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5; Senate, 5.

The A R C

LUTHER BAXLEY BOSWELL
Commercial

Most of Boswell's high school training is due to Uncle Bill Kennedy and his cigar. We feel sure that after spending five years in the Commercial Department under such an able instructor that Boswell's future will be illuminated by success. He is chiefly known by the cadets as a hard-boiled first sergeant.

Noted: Corporal, 4; First Sergeant, 5.

WILLIAM FRANKLIN BURTON, JR.
Commercial

Burton rises to empyrean heights as a military tactician and genius. We are told that he is contemplating teaching agriculture at B. M. I. in future years and is preparing accordingly. Burton must be a solid character, for he is favorably known to the Faculty, as so few others are.

Noted: Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5.

WILLIAM OLIVER BYRD
Technical

Will Oliver joined us in the middle of our first year, but since then he has more than caught up with us. He has caused the impossible to come to pass—the Tech section has an honor man! It is whispered that Byrd and Mr. Markert often slip out to the Officers' Club to burn a little incense on the altar of Lady Nicotine. Next year Byrd is headed for college and our best wishes go with him.

Noted: Honor, 1; High Honor, 4; Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5; Company Football, 5; Literary Editor, The A. R. C., 5; Last Will and Testament, 5.

GERALD HAMILTON CHANCY
General

Gerald is such a modest fellow that very little is seen of him, but he makes a great deal of noise. He can't help it—he's in the band. Besides playing a saxophone, Gerald is a sergeant, and noisily bosses the freshmen. Gerald played a brilliant game in company football, but was too light for the Varsity team. He is headed for Georgia, with our best wishes.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4, 5; Company Football, 5; Band, 5.

The A R C

ANDREW BELLINGER CUNNINGHAM
General

"Cleo" took honors in his second and third years, but being a fair-minded boy, he has now decided to let the rest of us fight over them. Andrew is a great dancer and regular "ladies' man." He is also a fine baseball player and will probably get his "R" this year.

Noted: Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5; Honors, 2, 3.

WILLIAM JACKSON DEAS
Post-Graduate

Deas is still hanging around for as long as three periods some days. How he manages to play football, basketball, tennis, and practice for the track team, then ride around in DeBold Wolf's new Buick, and study, is beyond us. This year Bill won his basketball "R" for the second time and he will probably make the track team if he "puts out."

Noted: High Honors, 1, 2, 4, 5; Highest Honors, 3; Company Football, 4, 5, 6; Basketball, 5, 6; Literary Editor, The A. R. C., 5; Sergeant, 5, 6; Manager Track, 6; Tennis, 6; Secretary-Treasurer Tennis Club; Senate; All-Regimental Football.

THEODORE RICHARD GILLMAN
Scientific, General

Here is one man that love has not affected. He seems like an old settled married man; but he excels in baseball, football, and in the class room. While "Teet" is not strolling with Her he is either making 50 yard punts, or fanning out sluggers, or making excellent marks in his studies. "Teet" has made many friends and is admired by all.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 4; Second Lieutenant, 5; Company Football, 2, 3; Varsity Football, 4, 5; Baseball, 2, 3, 4, 5; Captain Baseball Team, 5; Athletic Representative, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5; Athletic Editor, 5.

CLYDE COLLIER GRISWOLD
Scientific, General

Gripe is a freakish looking monster; as he has been described as an ape by his bosom friend, White, P. In spite of his optimistic disposition, Gripe studies hard; but it seems to him that fate and the faculty are against him. Although he sees many dark clouds, he often gives a hearty ha-ha in Mr. Skinner's class. Even if hard luck has been Gripe's foe, he has managed to clip off a few honors which shows that a good man can not be kept down.

Noted: Sergeant, 5; High Honor, 2, 3; Honor, 4.

The A R C

ROY CORTEZ HINTON
General

Roy has taken the four rounds of punishment and is taking the fifth without flinching. He is continually manufacturing "goose eggs" under Mr. Cordle. On account of Roy's wonderful ability, he has been unanimously elected as President of the "Know Nothing Club." Roy firmly believes that in years to come he will have a large number of followers due to his inspiring ability and leadership.

Noted: Non Drill.

JOSEPH WILLARD HOWELL
Technical

If any one should want to know Willard's formula, it is hot air. He says, "By jacks, I'm goin' t' pass," but when it comes to flunking, Joseph leads the pace. Willard is more formally known as Adjutant Howell, he being a firm believer in doing his duty. Major is led a close race by the lieutenant in burning the midnight oil, the difference being that the lieutenant burns his oil on extra drill list and not on great mathematical problems. Nevertheless Howell is a hard worker and is no slacker. We feel that he will succeed in the end.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4; First Lieutenant Adjutant, 5; Company Football, 4; Senate, 5; Military Editor of The A. R. C., 5; Class Chaplain, 5.

HENRY JERVEY KELLY
Technical

Jervey was given the nick name, "Bright Eyes," by Mr. Kane because of his wonderful complexion. If it were not for Deas, he would undoubtedly be the Sheik of the class. Jervey is a very hard working fellow. In fact, his time is so fully occupied that he is forced to study Chemistry in our cousin's class. Cousin Cassius says that another trip to Atlanta would result in a broken hat band.

Noted: Honors, 1, 2, 4; High Honors, 3; Corporal, 2, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4; First Lieutenant, 5; Company Football, 4, 5; Track, 5; Senate.

CASPER ALEXANDER KUHLE
Technical

"Cap" is a good friend, with all that the word implies. He believes in the doctrine that the way to have friends is to be one. A genial personality will immediately be recognized when we see the pleasant face of Casper. Casper is undoubtedly one of the leaders in the class, and deserves this eminence on account of his ability in the class room and on the athletic field as well.

Noted: Private, 1, 2, 3; Corporal, 4; Supply Sergeant, 5; Company Football, 4, 5; Scrub Football, 5; Assistant Editor-in-Chief, A. R. C.; Senate, 5.

The A R C

EDMUND HILL KUHKE

Technical

Ed, better known as "Bo," is quite a soldier, as is shown by the fact that he won, last spring, the Levy medal offered annually to the best drilled cadet. He is our Captain-Adjutant this year and he carries out faithfully and efficiently the duties of this office. "Bo's" genial personality has won for him the friendship not only of the Senior Class but that of the entire student body. It is a difficult matter to pass up one's work and attend to the duties of the military department—but Ed is doing both. Nor do his accomplishments stop here. As an athlete Ed won the lightweight championship cup his second year in track work, and was also a mainstay on his team in company football.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Winner of Levy Medal, 4; Captain and Adjutant, 5; Company Football, 3, 4, 5; Lightweight Track Champion, 2; Track Squad, 4; Secretary Class, 1; Assistant Athletic Editor, 4; Advertising Manager, 5; Senate.

EUGENE MATHEWS

Scientific

Mathews, otherwise known as "Skinny," delivered himself from Monte Sano or "the chicken coop of the Hill," and has managed to hold his own throughout the five years. Due to Skinny's pleasing personality and attractive "looks" he is quite a social lion, especially with the other sex. We all hope that Skinny will do well at Georgia.

Noted: Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5; Company Football, 4, 5.

ARTHUR MEDLOCK

Classical

Real ability will be recognized, and the class of 1924 hastens to introduce to the literary world one Arthur Medlock. Arthur is an intelligent and appreciative reader of everything from Turgenev's "delightfully morbid" novels to Ibsen's social dramas. Arthur is not merely a leader in his studies; he is valued as a boy of personality and character, and has many friends at Richmond. We wish him much success at the University of South Carolina, where he expects to pursue his course.

Noted: Entered, 3. Highest Honor, 3; Highest Honor, 4; Class Poet, 5; Literary Editor, 5.

ERNEST BRISCOE MERRY, JR.

Technical

By the aid of a microscope, in the fall of 1919, a wee little boy could be seen on the campus. This little boy was immediately given the nickname, Pee Wee. Pee Wee took high honors in his first and second years but in the third year the catastrophe came—he had begun to flunk. His classmates believe that laziness was the cause of his decline, but nevertheless he has managed to stay in the game. His laziness vanished, however, when he played brilliant tennis in the South Atlantic tournament. Ernest surely has the right name, for he is always merry, he being forever joking and worrying Mr. Scruggs.

Noted: Class President, 1; Vice-President, 2; Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; First Lieutenant, 4; Captain, 5; Company Football, 4, 5; Honors, 1, 2; Cheer Leader, 4, 5; Senate; Vice-President Tennis Club; Tennis, 5.

FREDERICK GUSTAVE MERTINS, JR.
Commercial

Fritz, as he is commonly known among his fellow class-mates, signed his name to the roll in the fateful year of '18. Fritz, we all believe, will develop into a competent business man because of the fact that he has made one of Mr. Kennedy's best students in the Commercial Department.

Noted: Corporal, 5.

DESSIE FORD MILLER
General

"Deek" is a so-called by-product of Woodlawn School. Deck was just a bit premature and entered the year '17, but due to some misfortune (brunette) he has allowed his real fellow classmates to catch up with him. Miller succeeded in winning the Preparedness Cup last year for having the best drilled Company in the Battalion. Deck is this year our Major, and of course we all look up to him. We all hope that "Son" will do well at Georgia.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4; Captain, 5; Major, 6; Company Football, 2, 3, 4; Football, 5, 6; Track, 4, 5, 6; Joke Editor, The A. R. C., 6; Senate.

FRANK NORTON MORGAN
Commercial

Morgan came to the "Old Historic" from John Milledge School. Morgan entered with the rest of the gang and has managed to hold his own throughout. Norton is a very quiet sort of a fellow and it is rumored that his opinion of the "fair sex" is disastrous. We all hope that Norton will have a seat on the Tubman stage.

OVERTON McDANIEL
General

The "Picayune" comes in every morning, and with it comes Overton. Overton is a native of Harlem, as many of his predecessors were that attended the "Old Historic." Mac is a very good student, especially in English, which he hopes to pass before leaving this year. He seems to like Mr. Kennedy's department, as he even spends his drill period there. Overton is very quiet, and is well thought of by the boys. He has won many friends while at Richmond, and we understand at Tubman, too. We wish Mac much success in his future life.

Noted: Entered 2nd; Non-Drill, 5.

The A R C

JOHN JOSEPH O'CONNOR
Commercial

Johnnie came to Richmond in 1920 from the Catholic High School. He has done fine work so far, and has made the five years in four, winning an honor every year. He is studying to be an accountant, and we are sure he will make a good one. Johnnie was one of the most marvelous quarterbacks that has ever graced Richmond's grid. He could be seen shaking off tackle after tackle, when the field seemed impenetrable.

Noted: Entered, 1920; High Honor, 1921; Honor, 1922 and 1923; Football, 1924; Sergeant, 1924; Baseball, 1924.

BASIL CHARLES DONALDSON PALMER
Technical

Basil comes from North Augusta. He joined as a Freshman and will finish with us this year. He is not a native Augustan, as he was born in Straits Settlements and lived for several years in Canada. Basil is going to move to Atlanta next year, where he will go to Tech to learn civil engineering. Maybe he will return to Augusta some day and pave Broad Street.

Noted: Honor, 2; Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5.

WILLIE TANNER POWELL

"Buck" is the noisiest boy in the class, and out on the drill field, when the last bugle has blown, he can be heard all over the campus calling his company to attention. Willie is one of our most distinguished Commercial hawks, and when he finishes Georgia he should be one of the greatest capitalists in the country. He never misses a single entertainment that is put on by the A. R. C. or Tubman, and is a staunch supporter of Tubman.

Noted: Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5; Company Football, 5.

WILLIE TANNER PRATHER
Scientific, General

Willie entered in the fateful year of 1918; but we have just discovered his presence because he is so noisy. Although he does not look so brilliant on the surface, Willie has more sense and progresses better than some fellows with louder mouths.

The A R C

JULIAN MERCER RAINWATER Classical

"Dew Drop" fell upon the Historic from Monte Sano School. He has clipped off an honor each year and we are certain that he will clip again this year. Julia is very feminine and it is rumored that Estes Reid has fallen in love with her.

Noted: Honor, 1; High Honor, 2, 3, 4.

HARRY BAXTER REEVES Technical

Reeves decided that the North Augusta High School was not large enough to allow his ambition to materialize, so he migrated to the famous Historic at the beginning of our Sophomore year. During his four-year sojourn with us, he has shown himself to be a very studious fellow. In fact, last year he obtained an honor—to his surprise, as well as the Faculty's.

Noted: Honor, 4; Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5; Senate; Company Football, 4, 5.

CHARLES ESTES REID Classical

In the year 1919 we, as little freshmen, saw stalking up to the front steps of the "Old Historic" a new A. R. C. uniform, carrying none other than the honorable Charles Estes. We have since become acquainted with this prodigy of information, and we find that he is not only a straight "A" man, but can smoke two cigarettes at one time. Sheik Reid has, we are sure, won the Rumrill Scholarship to Harvard because of his high grades and upright character.

Noted: High Honor, 1, 2; Highest Honor, 3, 4; Valedictorian.

EDWARD OWEN SAVITZ Technical

Ed has struggled through the five long years at Old Richmond. He was a bright scholar the first two years, but has been slowly going downward for the last three years. If Mr. Markert could keep him from going to sleep during class, he would have made greater progress. Nevertheless, he has done much to uphold the good record of Old Richmond. In basketball he put forth every effort to gain victory for the school we love so well. He intends to go to college next year, but has not yet decided which one he will attend. Wherever he goes, he will represent an excellent product of A. R. C.

Noted: Honor, 2; Class Treasurer, 2; Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Lieutenant, 4, 5; Basketball, 5; Company Football, 4, 5; Senate.

The A R C

HARRY SPEERING

History Certificate

Harry Speering was meek the first year at the A. R. C. and has not yet gotten out of his meekness. He is never seen with a chum; he has kept apart from us the whole five years. No one knows what he intends to do after this because he says nothing of his intentions. We all hope that he will be on the stage to receive a diploma in June, because he has worked hard for it.

Noted: Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5; Senate.

HENRY GEORGE STELLING

General

Enter the man with smoked glasses. Red is a regular cave man and believes in the Franklin System of Air Ventilation. Henry George is a stern Lieutenant, and the Freshmen's knees begin to shake when he gives an order. Red is trying to set an example to the rising generation by walking to school every morning. It is a pity he treats the street car company so badly. He is going to get a ticket for Athens in the fall and we wish him the greatest success at Georgia.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4; Second Lieutenant, 5.

DONALD GREGORY SULLIVAN

Classical

Gregg started two years late, entering during the third year, and since that time he has made a wonderful record, getting honors in 1921. Gregg came to us from the School for the Blind, at Macon, where he learned to read by means of his fingers, and if any one in the class deserves credit for successfully overcoming a tremendous handicap, Gregg is that man. Gregg, we all wish you success.

Noted: Entered, 3; Honors, 3, 4; Class Historian.

WILLIAM ALBERT TODD, JR.

Science

Out of the hills of North Augusta, down to the valleys of Richmond, comes Albert every day. Todd is quite a chemist, and when he does not make 95 he pleads with "Mr. MacPherson and Henderson." Albert is contemplating being a M. D., and if he studies anatomy as he studies chemistry he will eventually be another Mayo.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4; Lieutenant, 5; High Honors, 1, 2, 3, 4.

The A R C

HENRY BRAHE WATSON
General

Son Watson still continues his boyish pranks at the A. R. C. The Colonel made him Corporal in hopes that he would change, but it is very doubtful whether he ever will. He has a fair complexion and wonderful form. He is completing the five-year course in four, which is looked upon by the rest of the student body as one of the impossibilities.

PERRY LEWIS WHITE
General

"All hail the country lad," Perry Lewis White, perhaps better known as "Country Boy," is somewhat of a historian (?C?) Who—who—oo—oo is his phraseology. Perry's also a hard boiled sergeant—amongst Freshmen. Perry's highest ambition is to make his letter on the track team. 'Tis said, but not confirmed, that Perry aspires to be in love—to all this Perry will only say: "Aw, shut up."

Noted: Entered, 2nd; Corporal, 4; Sergeant, 5; Football, 5; Track, 5.

Ode to the Seniors

With zeal for your work and
Zest for your play,

With a will of your own to do;
You've studied and learned,
You've played and you've won—

You've stuck till the thing was through.

You've tried, and whether you've gained or lost,
You've smiled and you've done your part,
And now that your days with us are o'er
And life's harder work you must start,

We would say to you:
May your future be bright, your success be great,
Your joys in life, galore;
May God grant to you great happiness—
To the Class of '24.

—M. G.

IN MEMORY OF

William M. Walton

1906 — 1922

Member of the Class of 1924.

A boy of unquestionable integrity, high intellect,
and admired by all.

The A R C

Commencement

ONLY once does Commencement come—our farewell to Old Richmond. Hence every effort is made to make our commencement and commencement time an enjoyable occasion—an occasion always to be remembered.

Exams. over, our rejoicing begins. First, the Senior banquet, which needs no praise. Then the Baccalaureate Sermon, which we, as Seniors, attend with pride in our full dress uniform, while the rest of “Old Historic” looks enviously on.

Then the following night, the biggest time of all. We sit on the Tubman stage for what seems like days. We hear numerous speeches and addresses, and then our names. We step forward, bow, and that for which we have fought and bled is in our hands. And then the hop. We have looked forward to the hop since the day after last year’s dance. Without a doubt, this is the biggest day (or rather night) in our lives.

The A R C

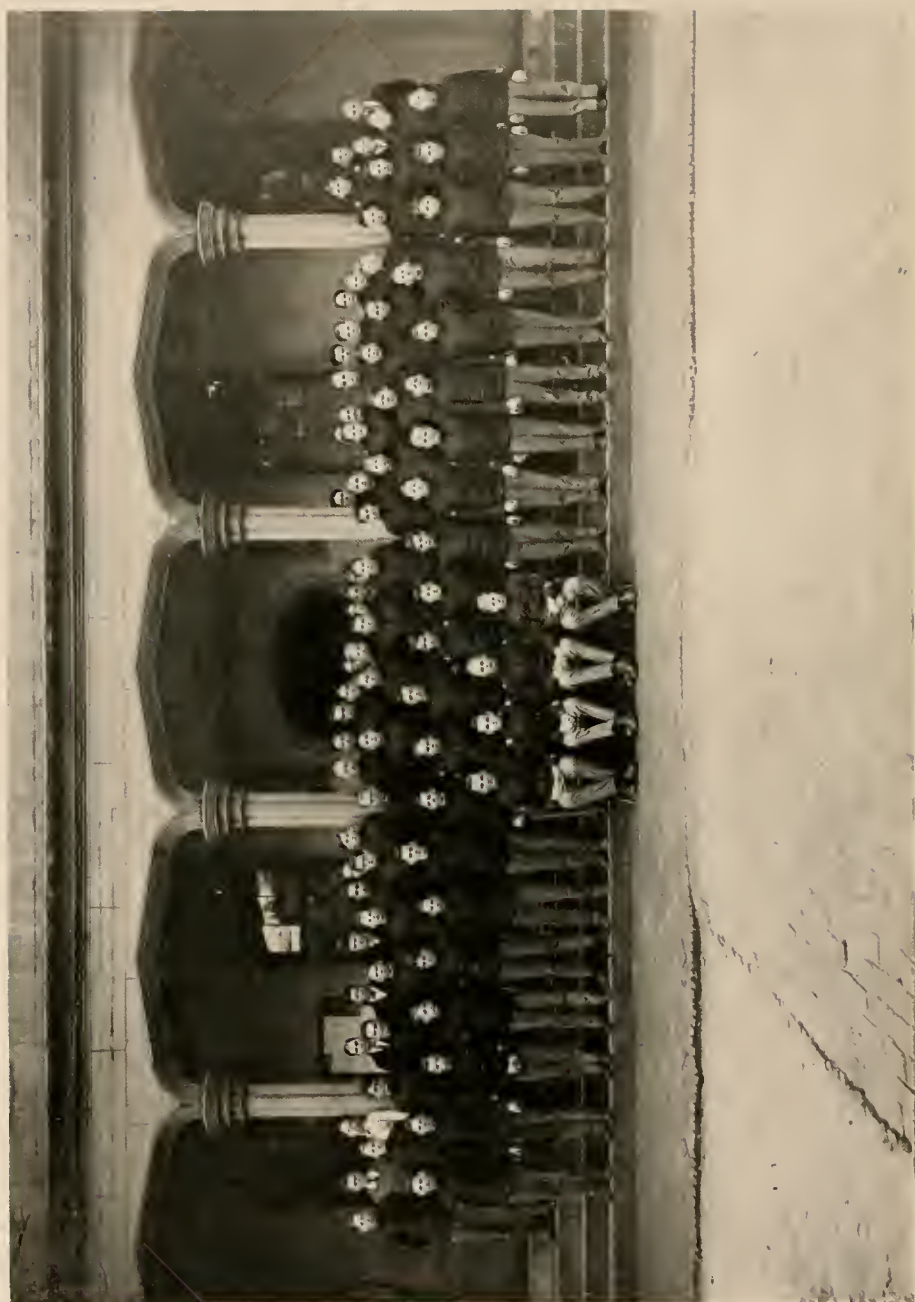

Sonnet

She passed my window just the other day,
As I was writing out a little song;
A little tinkling song like those that play
About among one's heartstrings all day long.
I was half through and thought I saw a way
To finish it and leave it quite complete—
('Tis a hard matter, so the poets say,
To write the last few stanzas—quite a feat
To write a poem at one sitting), when
She passed, all dainty white, blue eyes, and long
Soft yellow hair like April, and my pen
Dropped from my fingers, and I lost my song.
I lost it, yes; but I don't care, you see,
It was her love that caused my song to be.

The Usual Program

In the spring a young man's fancy
 Turns to thoughts of various sports—
Such as fishing, swimming, dancing,
 And making things like boats.
So then he starts to play around
 And pleases himself in full;
He substitutes in place of work
 A varied line of bull.
Thus all goes well for quite a while
 Until reports cards come—
Then oceans of study in summer school
 Beneath the torrid sun:
 And no vacation!

Athletics

“A STRONG mind in a strong body” might well be the motto of the Academy Athletic Council. It is axiomatic that the better the shape a boy’s body is in, the fitter he is to perform his mental tasks.

The success of the Richmond Athletic teams has always been proverbial. This year we have had a state championship football team, and a basketball team that won twelve out of sixteen games, losing to only one high school. Up to date there have been no track meets, but it is safe to say that it will take a championship team to trim A. R. C. The baseball team has not lost a single series, while the tennis team is equally as successful.

But the real benefit of athletics is not what it does for the Varsity man but what it does for the entire student body. About forty men were out for Varsity football, while over a hundred were engaged in company football: twenty were engaged in Varsity basketball; and over sixty in company basketball. Baseball drew over thirty candidates with company baseball attracting between seventy and eighty. Field Day had twenty odd entrants, of whom ten will compose the varsity. The tennis tournament had thirty-five players, four of whom compose the school team. So you can see that hundreds are engaged in some form of sport.

It is a matter for regret that the Academy has no gymnasium, the lack of which prevents hundreds from participating in another form of exercise. It is to be hoped that before many years have passed Richmond will have its own gym.

The splendid results of this extensive athletic programme is internally due largely to the co-operation of Major Butler, the untiring efforts of Mr. Bryson and his associates, and last, but not least, to the fine coaching of Messrs. Carson, Hood, Cordle and Read. Externally, we are indebted to a few Augustans for their services as officials and to various firms for their assistance in divers ways.

Aside from the physical benefits to the students there is the advertising given the school. A successful team in ’23 will bring say twenty more students in ’24, and they must be students or they cannot play on any team—due to the school’s rules.

Scholarship may be the foundation of school life but athletics is certainly a very large part of the superstructure.

Our Coach

Old Richmond has a wonder team,
Has had it these two years;
Ambitious athletes come with smiles
But leave with woeful tears.
Our eleven stars their records mar
And each admits with zest,
However easy our team was
Again we are the best.

In years gone by our teams were par,
They won a good per cent.
That's not our way of doing things,
So many eyes were bent
To looking for the missing "star,"
The man to give us pep.
We neither lacked a backfield
Nor a pair of tackles strong,
But had a general feeling
That things were going wrong.

When, lo, all of a sudden,
As from the very skies,
There came the long sought treasure
Before our very eyes.
At first we heard a rumor
Of the coach that was to come,
But since our team
Has won its games
We all are stricken dumb.

Coach Carson is the man that made
Our football a success.
Coach Carson is the man that put
Our team among the best.
He is the force behind us,
The spirit of the school,
And when the game is going bad
He wields his wicked tool.
He calmly sits and watches—
We fellows want to "euss"—
But then he makes a master stroke
And wins the game for us.

Review of Football Season

THANKSGIVING Day marked the exit of what was probably Richmond's greatest football team. A team weakened by the graduation of seven of the 1922 regulars, that yet turned out to be a machine even greater than the "Wonder Eleven" of the preceding year. Sherlock, Kinard, Luckey, Boatwright, Morris, Johnson, and Heath were all gone and new men had to be molded into their places. How well Coach Carson performed this difficult feat one can see by the season's record of seven games won and one lost; a total of 222 points to opponents' 6.

When the Coach's whistle blew for the first practice about forty candidates gathered around for the separation of the goats and lambs. Setting-up drills and up-setting runs alternated during the first fortnight, while daily the team took form. Out of this heterogeneous mass the Director finally formed an eleven that, with two changes, was destined to finish the season. So on September the 28th the Richmond adherents flocked to Academy Park to watch the humbling of the invaders from Batesburg-Leesville. The Richmond team clearly showed that it was merely experimenting with a varied line up and a diversity of plays. But in spite of its inexperience the Purple and Gold downed the strong Carolina eleven, who later went to the state semi-finals, by a two touchdown victory. Captain Fair, Pund, Miller, O'Connor and Brinson were the outstanding stars for the local team.

Seven days later Wofford Fitting School trotted out on Warren Park and lined up for the kick-off. At the end of the first half Richmond had a nineteen point lead and all looked well. Then the storm broke. Fair, while tackling one of Wofford's halves, crumpled up. On examination it was found that Warren had sustained a broken ankle. Richmond stock went down fifty per cent. In the last half A R C went thru' Wofford as if there was no opposition. The defensive work of Fair, Pund and Thomas stood out, while Williams, and Gillman were the offensive stars.

Columbia High was the next team to oppose the Musketeers, and the less said the better. Playing on a muddy field that greatly handicapped the light Richmond team, yet the only score was a pure fluke. Parks took a seventy yard punt around right end for what was to be the only score of the game. Thomas and Pund held Columbia, with one exception, down to the barest of gains and often to continual losses. O'Connor ran back punts in a manner reminiscent of Strupper. Mac Williams played one of the greatest defensive games at halfback that we have ever seen.

The A R C

On the flood tide the next Saturday there floated in the Statesboro Aggies. That night they floated back with a 64 to 0 score burned into them. Every one of the backs gained at will, stopping only for breath. Sack, Brinson, and O'Connor were the stellar ground gainers, while Pund, Thomas and Ferguson were bulwarks of defense.

Richmond and Porter locked horns in a game that for ten minutes seemed like a draw. Then O'Connor tossed a beautiful pass to Williams and the fun started. In the second quarter Gillman threw a forty yard pass that Samuel caught on his fingertips at a dead run. Williams and Brinson, aided by Ferguson, worked the ball the length of the field by straight plunges for the third score. In the final period Sack ran wild, which, with perfect interference, ran up nineteen points. All thru the game Pund, Scott, and Thomas were seen in every play. Porter did not register a single first down.

The next week Richmond faced Gordon with its second change of the season in the lineup. Powell went to the backfield and Samuel took right end. Within two minutes of the opening kick-off Brinson stepped over for a touchdown. About five minutes later "Billy Red" again chalked up six points for the Academy. Then Mac Williams broke loose for a touchdown and the half ended. After five minutes of the second half Johnny Connor went the length of the field and then unselfishly stopped on the ten yard line. On the next play Sack went over the goal line. A few minutes later Sack again waltzed down the field for the final score. Samuel kicked five out of six tries for the extra points after the touchdowns. Pund, as usual, played a wonderful defensive game.

Then the "Hoy Skule" swarmed up the Central of Georgia with blood in their eyes and revenge stamped on their faces. Those who attended the game will never forget the powerful offensive and faultless defense put up by the local warriors. Richmond received the ball and ran it up to the forty yard line. Brinson clipped off five yards and then twelve more on the next play. Williams went off tackle for fifteen yards, Brinson five around end and Gillman broke away for twenty yards. On the next play Brinson scored, but the touchdown was called back and Richmond was penalized for offside. A forward pass was grounded behind the goal and Savannah kicked out of danger. Williams' 12, Sack's 10, Gillman's 5 and O'Connor's run netted the first touchdown. The second half opened up with O'Connor running the kick-off back twenty yards. After a succession of five to fifteen yard runs, Gillman slipped off tackle for ten yards and a touchdown. On the next kick-off little Jimmy Scott carried the entire Savannah team for a ten yard run. Becoming tired, he sat down to rest, and thus was another touchdown averted. Brinson carried the ball over for another touchdown, and Samuel kicked his third successive goal. Near the end of the game a pass, Gillman to Samuel, netted the final score of the game. Brinson, Powell, Gillman, O'Connor and Sack all clipped off long gains, while Pund, Scott, Thomas, Ferguson and Wall held Savannah to two first downs.

After a ten day rest Richmond warmed up for the final game with Riverside. The previous year Riverside had downed the Academy by a 14 to 0 score and A. R. C. was out for vengeance. It was the first time that the Musketeers had ever triumphed over the Cadets and a glorious victory it was.

Handicapped by a slow, wet field, Richmond began the game with an exchange of punts. Early in the second quarter Gillman failed for a touchdown by inches. Brinson then emulated a tank by pushing the entire opposition back for the necessary foot. From then on the Richmond machine metamorphosed into a defensive team. Twice Riverside had the ball near the goal line and twice did one man turn them back. Harvey Ferguson, on four plays, brought Vaden down from what seemed to be a certain score. The features of the game are too many to mention. Gillman's runs of 12, 19, 15 yards; Sack's never failing gains; O'Connor's interception of passes; Pund's constant breaking up of plays; Samuel's heady playing; and Ferguson's desperate tackling—all packed into one game.

As a result of the season's record Richmond laid claim to the State championship. Only University School, of Atlanta, disputed it, and Richmond had an advantage over them. University School defeated Savannah, 13-9, while Richmond swamped Savannah with a 27 to 0 score. Richmond was not scored on by any Georgia team and scored 138 points itself.

At the final banquet letters were awarded to Capt. Fair, Pund, Scott, Wall, Cook, Ferguson, Thomas, Miller, Samuel, Hudson, O'Connor, Williams, Powell, Brinson, Gillman, and Sack. Henry Pund was elected captain for the '24 season without a dissenting vote.

The First Reserves

WE COULD never pass over the football record without giving credit to the first reserves. "Nick" Herndon, "Bill" Deas, "Jeff" Brigham, and Mealing are to be complimented for their aid given to the Varsity squad. Many times when these players were sent in to relieve some Varsity player they encouraged the rest of the team by their hard fighting. To know that some men are fresh and are willing to bear the bulk of the work makes the players feel confident. These players missed their letters by the barest margins. "Bill" is a Senior and is not expected to be back next year. "Nick" and "Jeff" will be back next year and will surely merit their letters.

The A R C

COACH CARSON

"Coach," as he is affectionately called, came to us in 1922, and for the past two years has done much toward putting Richmond Academy on the map. The first year of his career at Richmond saw a team which scored 212 points to their opponents' 14, put two men on the composite all-Southern prep team, and won a reputation throughout Georgia and South Carolina for clean sportsmanship and hard fighting. The next year Coach Carson turned out a team which was undefeated in Georgia. This championship team had the same old fighting spirit which Coach instills in all with whom he comes in contact.

Richmond is indeed fortunate to have such a mentor. We do not fear for her future as long as "Coach" is in charge of her grid warriors.

THEODORE "TEET" GILLMAN

"Teet" was the flash of the backfield. He passed, kicked, and carried the ball with comparative ease. Much ground was gained for Richmond by his extraordinary punts. Although a little underweight for a fullback, "Teet" filled this position perfectly. "Teet" was chosen as acting captain as soon as Warren had been carried from our midst with a broken ankle. As a defensive fullback "Teet" did some very good work. Few who reached the line of scrimmage ever passed him. This is "Teet's" last year as a student at Richmond and he will leave a vacancy that will be hard to fill.

LEONARD HUDSON

Hudson, a company football star of the previous year, played his first year as a Richmond end this past season. "Hut" is tall and rangy and has all the earmarks of an end. "Hut" was a strong factor on the defense. He could catch a pass without showing any effort at all. He broke up many end runs that would have been long gains, and probably touchdowns, if they had circled his end. Leonard is a Junior and is slated to come back to the A. R. C. next year.

DESSIE MILLER

"Major" was one of the lightest men on the team, but what he lacked in weight was more than equaled by his speed and his deadly tackling. He deserves much credit for his fighting spirit. Dessie had much fun bringing down men heavier than himself. An attempt to circle his end was a fruitless task. When Richmond punted, Dessie was always the first man down the field and would often tackle the man in his tracks. This was especially noticeable in the Savannah game. Dessie has ended his career as a football artist for Richmond and can next be heard from at the University of Georgia. He will be missed very much but we should not be so selfish as to keep him here and, by so doing, prevent him from starring at Georgia both in football and track.

The A R U

CAPTAIN WARREN FAIR

Having been captain of last year's team, Warren returned to captain another Richmond football team. Unfortunately, Gammy was destined to play in only two games. In the second game of the season Warren sustained a broken ankle which kept him out the rest of the season. President was the spirit of the players, and when he was taken from them they seemed to have lost all hopes. This was made evident by the 6 to 0 defeat administered to Richmond by Columbia the week following Warren's injury. If Richmond had had her captain it would certainly have won this game, but, not having the leader, the team was completely demoralized and unnerved. Warren is liked by all the students for his friendly and modest ways. He is headed for Georgia Tech (probably to become captain of this team in future years). Fair's name will go down as one of Richmond's greatest football players.

HENRY "PETER" PUND

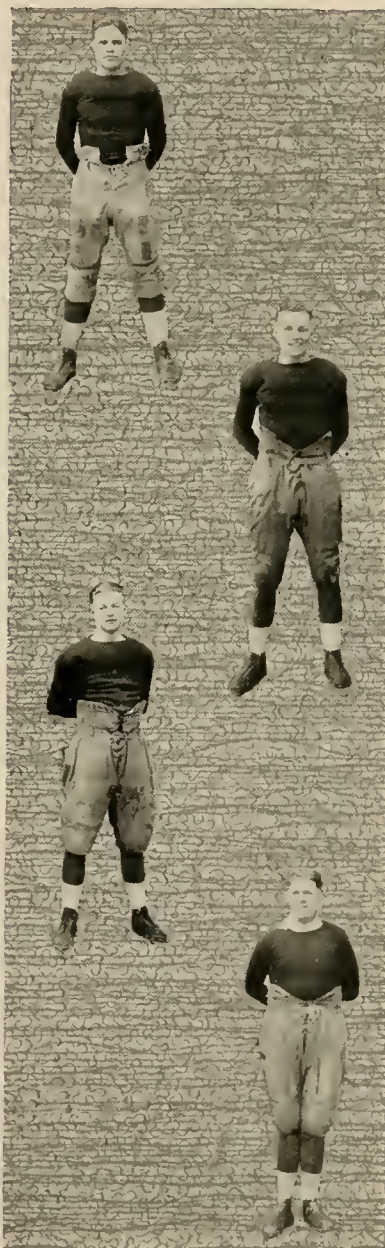

Henry was by far a better center than any of the centers of our opposing teams. In some way or other he was in every play. Peter would just as soon tackle the whole back field as one man alone. As a defensive center Henry is the best ever produced by the Academy. By his ferocious tackling he completely tore down opposing backs. Henry was the life of the team. For his untiring efforts, his sportsmanship and this way of talking to his teammates, he was elected to be captain of the 1924 Richmond team. With such a leader as Henry it is certain that Richmond will have, as usual, a fighting aggregation.

FOSTER WALL

Foster was a great rival to Henry Pund when it came to the question of tackling the hardest. Foster played left guard. Since he played this same position last year he was very much at home this year. Foster was as strong on the offensive as he was on the defensive. He opened large holes in the opponents' line in order to let one of our backs gain. He has already received two "R's" and intends to come back next year. If Foster's mental abilities increase he will probably be playing on some college team in time to come.

WILLIAM COOK

Cook is a hard fighter. He is a tower of strength and proved this by the way he tackled opposing backs. Cook played only one position, left guard. (Though he could easily have played one side of the line by himself.) He weighs two hundred and thirty pounds, but this does not prevent him from being active. William played a great game against Riverside, tackling his opponents for losses, when, at other places, they gained steadily. This is William's first letter in football. When the first practice is called for the 1924 season, it is hoped that Cook will be there to play left guard for another year. Selah!

The A R C

JOHN O'CONNOR

Johnny left the Shamrocks this year when he was urged to join the Musketeers, happily for Richmond. Johnny is the lightest man that ever played on the Richmond Varsity, and at the same time he is one of the headiest and most speedy backs seen in high school. Johnny made a fine gain every time he took the ball. A great deal of the spirit and stamina of our "Wonder Eleven" was due to Richmond's speedy little quarterback. O'Connor has not only the ability to gain ground; but he can kick, pass, and receive with the dexterity of a university star. As Johnny is a lordly Senior he leaves the "Old Historic" this summer, much to the delight of our football opponents. This is John's first letter, but in later years we predict he will gain many more.

FRANCIS POWELL

Powell first began as an end, but he was not to continue at this position for more than two games, for Coach needed more back'eld men. He saw great prospects in "Fran" and therefore developed him into a backfield man. "Fran" gained every time he was called upon. He was arsenic on end runs, being very fast and having the ability to reverse in an instant. He was an excellent broken field runner. No forward pass was completed by the opponents on his side of the line. "Fran" will be back next year and every one knows that he will be the shining light of the 1924 football team.

ADOLPH SACK

Sack, the Rudolph of the Richmond Academy, was undoubtedly the most consistant ground gainer for Richmond during the past season. In every game that he played he gained at will. Sack is as perfect in running as any one would want to be. He runs low, takes a long stride, and sidesteps a man very quickly. These gifts of nature makes him one of the best backs that has ever been seen in action on the gridiron at Warren Park. Adolph was a great help to the other backs when they needed interference. Several times he would take two men at one clip, and think nothing of it. Adolph is a Senior, and will take his future abode in some college. He received one "R" in football.

JARRETTE SAMUEL

"Rut," our right end, was a small but aggressive star. His size was not a handicap in the least. His ability to catch passes was uncanny. Many times it looked as though the ball would fall dead, but "Rut" would manage to get under it. Samuel showed his exceptional ability to catch passes in the Porter game when he caught the ball by his fingertips while he was on a dead run, in the most spectaenlar catch ever witnessed at Warren Park. "Rut" earned his first football letter as a performer on the gridiron this past season. Whether or not "Rut" will be back next year is not known.

The A R C

JULIAN "KATIE" THOMAS

Thomas was called upon to fill the shoes of our injured captain, and so well did he do so that one could scarcely tell that Warren was out of the game. "Katie" broke into limelight the very first game. He realized his great task and he performed it by continually fighting. "Katie" showed his prowess as a tackle in the Columbia game. Time and time again "Katie" threw the Columbia backs for losses. This is Julian's first letter, and, as he is only a third year man, he is sure to be a star for Richmond for the next few years that he remains there.

MacPHERSON BERRIEN WILLIAMS

"Mac" was one of the three letter men who returned to play for the 1923 football team. "Mac" is noted for his clean playing. He believed in fighting to the last minute and instilled this into the other players. He hardly ever missed a tackle. When he went after a man he usually brought him down. Intercepting forward passes was his chief occupation. "Mac" has received three "R's" for his football talents. He is headed for college and the one that gets him will have a great athlete to represent them both on the gridiron and on the cinder path.

JOHN "RED" BRINSON

"Red" hails from Millen. He has played three years for Richmond and has done much to contribute to the glories won by the Richmond football teams. "Red" is short and heavily built which, together with his speed, has enabled him to gain many yards for Richmond. "Red" is noted for his "stiff" arm. Many an opposing player has succumbed to this mighty weapon. This is "Red's" last year as a player for Richmond and it is not known where one will next hear of him. We suppose, though, that it will be as a star on some college football team.

HARVEY FERGUSON

Harvey was without doubt one of the hardest players on Coach Carson's line. When he hit an opposing back "time out" was usually called by our opponents. Harvey is very quiet and seldom has anything to say; he makes up for his silence by his actions. Ferguson has played guard or tackle for two years, and, as he goes to Furman this year, his loss will be keenly felt.

JAMES "BUCK" SCOTT

Buck was the prize piece of beef of the team, tipping the scales at 230 pounds. He is not only a piece of beef but a Rock of Gibraltar as right guard. Buck was an important factor in that impenetrable line that made the opposing lines so powerless.

THE WAYNESBORO MEET

ON THE 11th day of April, the track team journeyed to Waynesboro through oceans of mud for the purpose of having a meet. Richmond was victorious by the score of 48½ to 20½. The only feature of this meet was the wetness of both the ground and participants.

Cabaniss was high point man with 11 points. Williams and Sack came next with 10 points each. Hunter, a new man on the team, showed his worth by his performance on the relay team.

THE PORTER MEET

Richmond was the host of Porter Military Academy on the following Saturday. This was the hottest contested meet ever seen on the local track. Porter started off by taking both places in the 100 yard dash, but Richmond forged ahead after taking first and second in the hurdles and broad jump. Williams furnished the feature of the day by running the hurdles in 14.25 seconds, breaking his own record for that event. Sack was a star in this meet, winning the broad jump at 19 feet 11 inches and the high jump at 5 feet 4½ inches.

The meet was not won until the last race was over, the relay. If Porter won, A. R. C. would lose by one point. If A. R. C. won, Porter would be defeated. The relay lived up to its reputation and after an exciting race Richmond won by fifteen yards, making the score 43 to 34 in Richmond's favor.

THE TECH RELAYS

The relay team, composed of Cabaniss, Miller, Powell and Williams, with Hunter and Sack as substitutes, went to Atlanta to take part in the annual Tech relays held May 26th. Richmond was entered in Class B for Preparatory Schools.

The Richmond team had the good luck to draw the pole. Carolina Military and Naval Academy was second and Darlington third. Cabaniss, lead off man for Richmond, started at the crack of the pistol and soon outdistanced his opponents. He finished five yards ahead of the others. Miller received the baton from Cabaniss and ran as if his opponents were at his heels. He ran the best race of his career. Powell, running third, added still more ground; and Williams, the anchor-man, had a good fifteen yard lead, which he increased still more for an easy win. The Richmond team broke the Academy record by a second and a half, making the time of 1 minute, 37.5 seconds for the race. This time beat that made by Boys' High in Class A High School by 3.10 of a second. The relay team has not lost a race for four years and hopes to keep the record clean.

The A R C

COACH CORDLE

Coach Cordle came to Richmond in 1916 from Trinity College, where for two years he was a member of the track team. He took full charge in 1917, and since then has turned out such men as Hervey Cleckley, Carl Hogrefe, and Gene Halford, who are making good at Georgia, Citadel, and Georgia Tech, respectively. In 1921, Mr. Cordle turned out a relay team which easily won the prep school event in the Southern relays held at Georgia Tech. Looking back on Mr. Cordle's teams of the past, we do not fear for Richmond's standing on the cinder path in the future.

CAPTAIN "MAC" WILLIAMS

"Mac" is completing his fourth year as a member of the track team and his second year as Captain. Mac's best race is the 120 low hurdles, in which he holds the remarkable record of 14 2/5 seconds, made in the Porter meet. Besides this, Mac ran a 220 with the best of them, finished the relay, and came within half an inch of setting a new pole vault record at Wrens. Mac is leaving next year and Richmond's loss will be a great gain for any college he attends.

WILLIAM CABANISS

For the third year, Billy is one of the mainstays of the track team. Last year, Billy starred in every meet and even greater things are expected of him this year. All of Richmond's opponents have learned to fear the great Cabaniss, a fear that is well founded. Besides the 440 and 220, Billy runs the first lap of the relay and always gives Richmond a lead. It is very doubtful if a man can be found to fill Billy's shoes after he graduates this year.

WARREN FAIR

This makes the third year Warren has hurled the weights for old Richmond. From the start "Sugar" was a star in his events, gaining many valuable points for the team. Last year, in the Columbia meet, Warren saved the day by throwing the discus 151 feet 8 inches, and this year it is thought he will do even better. Warren holds the A. R. C. shot put record with a distance of 42 feet 3 inches.

The A R C

ELWOOD HUNTER

Hunter came to us from Newport High School in Virginia. He was a dependable back on the scrub football team and his speed will serve him as well on the cinder path this spring. Hunter showed up well in the first meet of this year and will doubtless win his spurs on the relay team.

DESSIE MILLER

"Deck" has been Richmond's star sprinter for the last two years. Although he has suffered from a pulled tendon, he has won many points for Richmond in the 100. He easily left the field in the first meet of the year. Dessie also runs the relay, and can be depended on to gain several yards for Richmond. As "Deck" goes to Georgia next year, Coach Cordle will have a place that is hard to fill.

PAUL NOTES

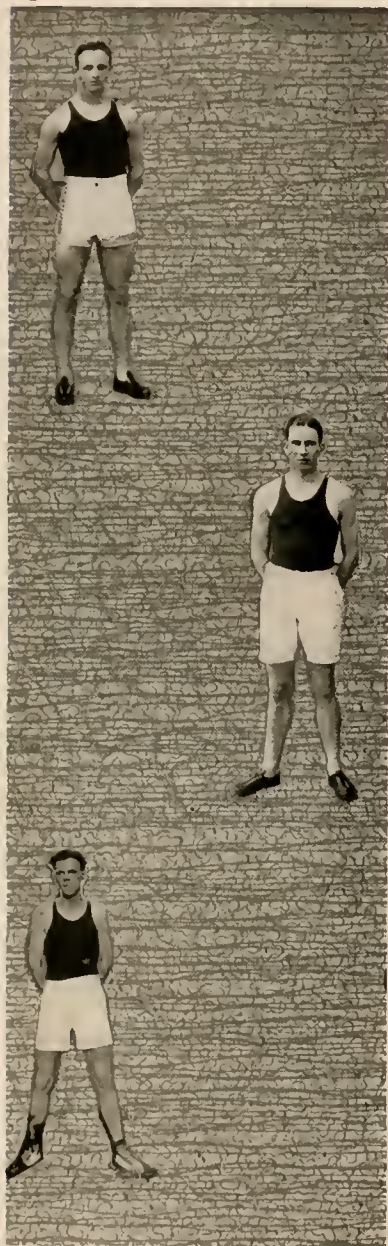

Motes arrived from Leah, Georgia, High School, where he starred in baseball and basketball. He has also won the high jump for two consecutive years in the district meet. Richmond will doubtless count on him next year for the high jump.

FRANCIS POWELL

"Fran" made his debut on the cinder path as a member of the 1923 team. In his coming out party he broke the Academy record in the broad jump with a jump of 19 feet 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches. Besides the broad jump, Fran runs the hurdles and relay, always adding points to the score. Fran returns next year and will be a star to build the 1925 team around.

The A R C

ADOLPH SACK

Adolph, living up to his records in other branches of athletics, became a star on the track team his first year out. Last year he high jumped, but this year his ability had doubled and besides the high jump, Adolph broad jumps and puts the shot. In the Porter meet, Sack won the broad jump with a mark of 19 feet 11 inches, and also the high jump at 5 feet 6½ inches. Adolph broke the A. R. C. broad jump record with 20 feet 7 inches in the Savannah meet.

PERRY WHITE

Perry has been out for the team for two years and in the Porter meet this year he came within one inch of breaking the Richmond record in the pole vault. White ranks with the best of them in the high jump with a mark of over five feet. Perry sprained his ankle at the first of the season, but it is hoped he will recover before the end of the season. He holds the pole vault record at 10 feet 1 inch.

HENRY CABANISS

"Burr" did not realize his high jumping ability until late in the season; but since that time he has developed into a high stepper. In his first meet he tied for first place, the altitude being 5 feet 2 inches. Next year "Burr" will ably fill Sack's shoes.

Review of Baseball Season

ON MARCH 8th, Coach Hood issued the first call for volunteers for the baseball team of 1924. There were only two of last year's men back—"Teet" Gillman and "Doc" Hutchinson, but after practice had been going on for a few days there seemed to be many stars beginning to shine. After about two weeks of stiff practicing, Coach Hood got a couple of practice games for the team.

The first game of the season was with Batesburg-Leesville. A. R. C. tied the first game, 1 to 1, and won the second by a score of 3 to 0. "Doc" pitched fine ball in the last game, giving his opponents only four hits.

On April 12, Savannah journeyed to Augusta to take revenge on A. R. C.—and take revenge—she surely did. "Doc's" team-mates threw the game away. The score was 4 to 2 for Savannah.

On April 19th, the Richmond nine went to Granite Hill to play the fast A. & M. District team. The A. & M. defeated the Academy, 7 to 3. This game was the last one played up to the time that the Annual goes to press.

The A R C

COACH HOOD

Coach Hood played second base for Erskine College, and therefore is a man suited for his job as coach. This is his first year as a coach for Richmond, but in this time he has built out of only three letter men from last year a team which is noted for its slugging. His team got a bad start but after getting started has been hard to stop. The team has won seven straight games. Coach Hood will have nine of his men back next year.

"TEET" GILLMAN

Captain "Teet" Gillman is the mainspring of the team. He is always full of pep and instills this manner of playing into the other players. He is a pitcher of great note around this section. This is his third year as a Richmond ball player. He has worlds of "stuff" on the ball, and it is a sure fact that "Teet" will hold opposing batsmen in check. He is a good hitter and can always be depended on in a pinch. This is Teet's last year.

HENRY DUNAWAY

"Dunny" is our fast shortstop with the mean arm. His ability to cover the short field in spectacular style is uneanny. "Dunny" covers lots of ground and has an arm that can shoot the ball from deep short to first like a bullet. "Country" hits second in our batting order, due to his ability to bunt and to wait the pitcher out. He is also a good hitter and is up around the top in the team averages. It is not known whether he will be back next year.

"BABE" FLORENCE

"Babe," who has the care of all balls going to left field, is a great addition to the Richmond baseball team. Last year he played star ball with North Augusta in the Sunday School League, and it seems that he will repeat this brand of ball again this year. Babe takes great pleasure in getting extra base hits, collecting two doubles in three games. He was robbed of at least a triple by the Savannah center-fielder. "Babe" is an even better fielder than he is a hitter and he bats 305.

The A R C

WILLIAM GILLMAN

Billy holds down the hot corner, and he does it in grand style. Billy has a good arm, and he throws out a good many batters, when it seems that they will get safe. Gilly is also a good hitter, and he hits 'em when they are needed. Billy is a fair "chunker" and may give us a chance to show his wares a little later in the season. He will be with us next year.

LEONARD HUDSON

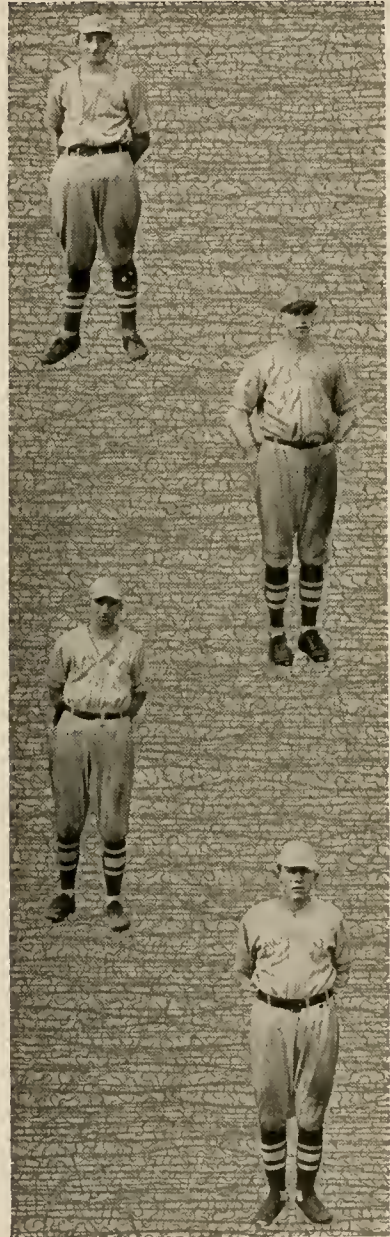

"Hut" plays first on our musketeers nine. This is his second year on the team, playing last year in the outfield, but due to his height and reach he was shifted to the initial sack. Leonard is a very valuable man to have in the infield, for he has a good baseball head. Besides being a good fielder he is trouble with the willow, for he is of the slugging type and up to the present time is hitting over the coveted .300. Leonard will be back next year.

HENSLEY "DOC" HUCHISON

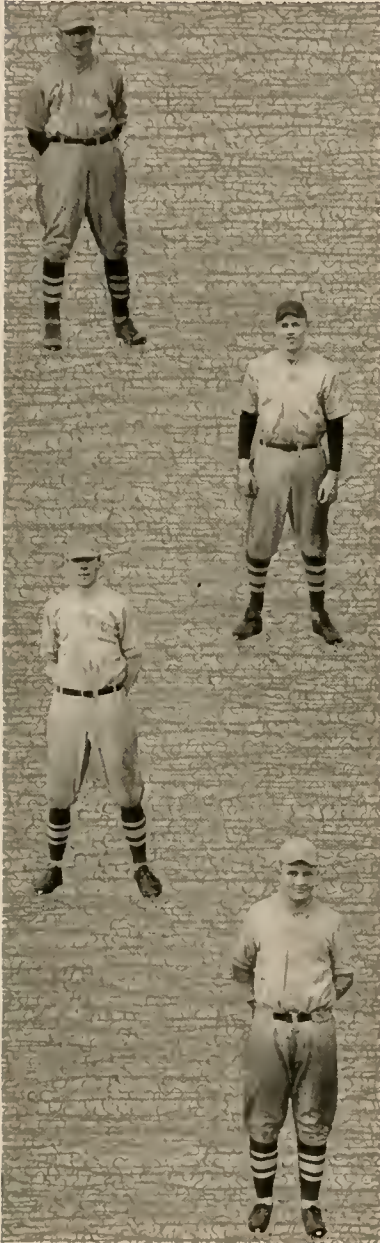

"Doc," an old man from last year's team, is one of our main twirlers this season. "Hen" has a good head, a good curve, a fast ball, and a splendid knuckle ball. "Doc" is the best hitter on the team; last year leading the team in batting, and bids fair to repeat again this year. Go to it, "kid," we wish you luck. Hutch is now hitting at a .500 clip.

"COUNTRY" McGAHEE

Mac came to us at the beginning of the fall term this year from Deering. He came out for the team and has made very good progress up to the time this goes to press, winning three games. Mac has a lot of stuff and bids fair to become one of our leading pitchers. We pray that he will return.

The A R C

"JOHNNIE" O'CONNOR

Our keystone sack is guarded by a little cotton-top kid—I mean man. Johnny played quarterback on our "Wonder Eleven" and is now making a great record on the diamond. Johnnie is a sure fielder and in the games we have played he has handled numerous hard chances without making a single bobble. Although he is a little weak with the stick, he managed to get on by well placed bunts and by his good head work. Much to our regret, Johnnie is leaving us this year.

RUT SAMUEL

Rut, our flashy center fielder, is the leading run scorer so far. He is lead off man, and certainly fills this position well. Once on the bases, he is sure to make the circuit for a run. He has a good eye, and is trouble to opposing pitchers. Up till the present time he is fielding a thousand and it is hoped that he will keep this up. Rut has already made one letter in baseball and when the 1924 season ends, he will have received two baseball letters at old Richmond.

JIM COOK

Jim is a promising young player, earning a place in right field. He is a good fielder, with a deadly outfielder's peg. Jim was "pepped up" for Richmond by the Sunday School League. Jim wants to slug all the time and our coach has a hard time making Cook "choke up" his bat. Jim is only a second year man, and will earn his first letter this year. Richmond will have a mighty good ball player for the next two years in this boy. Cook is now hitting with the leaders.

"BOB" SMITH

Smith was second string catcher on last year's squad. When Johnson left us for Georgia, Smith stepped into his place. Bob is a hard worker. What he lacks in hitting he makes up in his work. Smith had the hard luck to get his finger split in a practice game with the Augusta Tygers in the early part of the season.

Review of Basketball Season

WHEN Coach Hood sounded first call for basketball practice a large squad of hoop artists responded. With such stars as Capt. Florence and Hardy back and a wealth of new material on the scene, the prospects for a good team looked bright. After three weeks of hard work the team opened the season with a game against the North Augusta High School team. Richmond had little difficulty in defeating the boys from across the river, the final score being 54 to 15.

In the second game the team work showed a marked improvement and easily overwhelmed the noted Irish lads (Shamrocks) by a score of 70 to 18.

The next game of the season came during the holidays with the Richmond Alumni. This game proved to be Richmond's first real test. Due to the superior team work and condition of the Richmond team, we won by a score of 45 to 23.

On January 8, Richmond easily defeated the Wrens five by a score of 66 to 11. Capt. Babe Florence and Big Six Hardy ran wild in the game.

January 19 the Richmond five journeyed to Savannah to meet their ancient rivals, the Savannah (Hoy) School, Richmond winning by a score of 23 to 18. Capt. Florence demonstrated his ability as a hoop artist in this game, ringing up 13 of his team's points and playing a great floor game. The defensive work of Hudson and Savitz, who was playing his first game for Richmond, stood out prominently.

The much tooted cagers of the Columbia High School journeyed to Augusta, where they suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Richmond Musketeers, the score being 23 to 18, Florence, Hardy, and Sack contributing much to Richmond's victory. Hardy showed his ability as a center by getting most of the tip-offs over his opponent.

On February 2 Richmond Academy received the first disappointment of the season when they were defeated by the strong team from B. P. I. The score being 19 all at the end of the fourth quarter, an extra five minutes was added, during which an opponent rang a lone goal from the mid-court, the final score being 24 to 19.

On February 8 the Richmond team journeyed to Athens to play the Georgia Bull-Pups. Due to the heavier and more experienced Rats, Richmond was defeated by a score of 33 to 13. Although closely guarded by his heavier opponents, Capt. Florence rang up ten of his team's points.

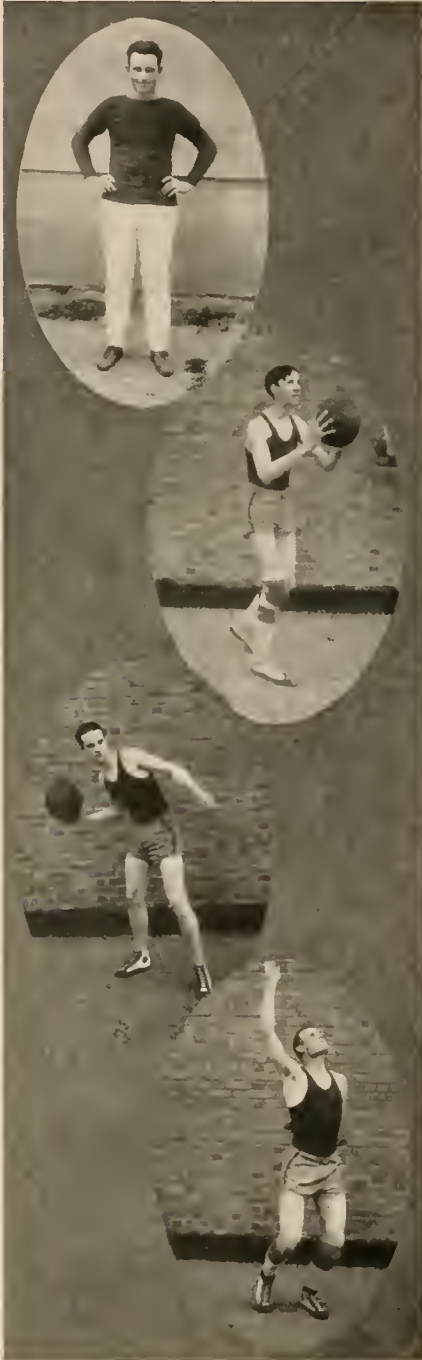

On the 16th of February the Savannah (Hoy) School journeyed to Augusta to play a return game with the Musketeers. In this game Richmond defeated Savannah, 27 to 23. The diminutive Rut Samuel displayed his ability as a floor man in this game. His passing and dribbling was the feature of the game. As usual, Florence upheld his reputation as the high point man of the team, contributing 13 points to the score. Hardy and Sack played well in this game.

February 18th the Georgia Bull-Pups came to Augusta for a return game with Richmond. The Academy showed marked improvement over their previous game with the Freshies. The score, which was 26 to 10 in favor of the Bull-Pups, does not indicate the fierceness of the struggle. The work of Samuel, Deas, and Florence stood out brilliantly, while the whole Georgia team played well. Capt. Johnson, of the Georgia Rats, former Academy star, played one of the greatest games of his career.

February 27th Richmond easily defeated the Erskine Freshmen by a score of 52 to 13. Richmond completely out-classed the boys from Carolina. Big Six Hardy was high point man with 23 points to his credit. Sack and Hudson played well at guard.

On March 1st A. R. C. journeyed to Vidalia, Georgia, to a return with B. P. I. Old man jinx again intervened and A. R. C. lost by the close score of 24 to 23. This was the last game in which Florence, Hardy, Samuel, and Sack could be seen in action for the glory of old Richmond. These men all showed up well in this game.

The A R C

COACH R. E. HOOD

Coach Hood comes to us from Erskine College (nuf sed). He graduated from this school and decided to teach at the Richmond Academy. He had only three letter men back from the last year's squad, but succeeded in turning out a good team. Mr. Hood is also baseball coach and assistant coach in football.

CAPTAIN GEORGE "BABE" FLORENCE

Forward

This year was Captain "Babe's" second year on Richmond's squad. Florence was high-point man of the squad this season, being a scintillating star of the court. His shooting as well as his close guarding contributed a large part to Richmond's victories. Folks, watch his future work on the court.

WILLIAM "SHEIK" DEAS

Forward and Guard

The "Sheik" graduated last year, but, feeling sorry for our school, decided to return this year and help us out. This is Bill's second year on the basketball squad, having attained his "R" last year. The "Sheik" holds down a forward's position but is sometimes run in as a guard.

J. C. "BIG SIX" HARDY

Center

Hardy is the other star from last year's squad. He jumps for the local cagers and usually does a good job of it. He was runner up for the high-point honors this last season. "Big Six's" general floor work and his ability to locate the basket deserves honorable mention.

The A R C

ADOLF "AT-A-BOY" SACK Guard

We regret very much to say that this is Sack's last year with us. Sack, along with Hudson, formed a mean pair of guards. It took a good man to get inside of Sack and his goal. He was always there and delivered in a pinch. In the middle of the season "At-a-boy" was laid up with a "bum" knee, which kept him out of the game for about two weeks.

JARRETTE "RUT" SAMUEL Forward and Guard

"Rut" made his "R" year before last, but was not in school last year. This year he appeared on the floor again and showed up to be "quite the stuff." He started the season off as guard, but soon after his ability to locate the basket was discovered and he was promoted to forward, where he gave our opponents plenty of opposition. "Rut" is another three letter man. He says that this is his last year at Richmond.

EDWARD "DIMITIVE" SAVITZ Forward

Ed was the smallest man on our squad the past season, but he did not let that small matter keep him from playing good basketball. Ed had a good eye and was "quick as lightning" on his feet. This is Ed's last year with us.

LEONARD HUDSON Guard

This was Hudson's first year on the squad, but the folks who saw him in action will tell you that he looked like a big leaguer. "Huddy" turned out to be one of our best guards. He had the reach, the ability to move quickly, and a thorough knowledge of the game. Leonard is a three letter man this year. He made his letter in football, basketball, and baseball. He will be with us again next year.

MILITARY

BOOK IV

The A R U

The Military Department

THE Military Department of the Academy has been for forty years one of the most valuable features of the school. At its birth in 1882, it comprised only one small company. It led a somewhat precarious life, under the leadership of Captain J. O. Clark, until 1888, when it was discontinued for a period of ten years.

In 1898 it was recommenced by Major George P. Butler, who filled the position of Commandant. Under his leadership this department, along with the whole school, entered upon a period of sturdy growth. On account of the growth of the school, his duties became so heavy that he was forced, in 1919, to turn the department over to Major E. C. B. Danforth, Jr., a veteran of the World War, who held it for three years. In 1922 Colonel Charles Whitney, who had assisted Major Danforth the year before, was placed in charge of the department. On account of the large increase in membership, the battalion was changed to a regiment of two battalions with three companies each. Colonel Whitney's hard work and skillful management brought the regiment to a high state of efficiency. As Colonel Whitney was unexpectedly called into business, he was unable to return this year, and Colonel John T. Hains became our Commandant. He has been carrying on the fine work of Colonel Whitney and we have in mind greater prospects for the future.

Last year the student body voted for a change in our uniforms. The old uniform consisted of a blue coat (with brass buttons), grey trousers, blue cap, black shoes and a white military collar. The coat was changed to the coat which was formerly worn only by officers. These coats have no brass buttons, but a higher collar. This is the uniform worn during the winter months. In spring and summer, instead of the coat, a blue shirt and a black tie are worn. For special occasions a full dress uniform, consisting of white duck trousers, blue coat, blue cap, black shoes, white gloves and a white military collar is worn.

The rifles used at the Academy are furnished by the government. This year, through the efforts of Major Butler and Colonel Hains, the guns were taken to the Arsenal and Parkerized, which will prevent their rusting. The growth of the regiment has necessitated an addition to our supply of rifles.

The A R C

Requisition has been made for them, and we are glad to say it has been granted. When the new rifles come, we are contemplating target practice for the commissioned and non-commissioned officers. We will also begin extended order drill, with several new features, which will add interest to this branch of the work.

A new United States flag has been ordered to replace the old one, which is about worn out.

The Regiment takes part in various parades during the year, and thus shows the people of Augusta what this department is doing. We parade on Armistice Day, on Memorial Day, and at various other times during the year, as some particular occasion requires. One of the best features of our parades is the Academy Band, which is composed of twenty-five pieces. This year Mr. Louis Sayre is instructing the band.

At the end of each year two competitive prize-drills are held, one between individuals and the other between companies. For the individual prize-drill the eight best drilled men are selected from each company by their Captain. Each Captain in turn gives a series of commands. When a cadet commits three errors he must fall out. The last one standing is declared winner of the Levy Medal. This was won last year by Sergeant Ed Kuhlke. The company prize-drill is held at the Academy Park. The judges are usually World War veterans who are well known in the city. Each Captain leads his company through a series of evolutions during a certain length of time. After all the companies have finished drilling, the judges select the winning company. Last year this prize-drill was won by Company A, commanded by Captain Dessie Miller.

The daily drill is very useful. It serves to give the students, to some degree, a practical knowledge of military science. It serves as a recreation period in the middle of the day and gives the student some much needed exercise. It also rests their minds from their studies, and, at the same time, helps to foster school spirit. It is one of the greatest assets of the school.

Last Will and Testament

STATE OF GEORGIA:

ACADEMY OF RICHMOND COUNTY.

In Thanksgiving to the Powers That Be: Amen.

WE, the Class of Nineteen Twenty-Four, of said State and Academy, having passed through five years of torture in the hands of an Absolute Monarch, being sustained only by the hope that there are brighter days in the future, yet being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do make this our last Will and Testament.

Item One

We hereby constitute and appoint Mr. Jesse Bowden Ragsdale the sole executor of this our last Will and Testament, excusing him from giving any bond or making any returns to the Court of Ordinary, or to any court. Should the said Jesse Bowden Ragsdale be in any way mentally deficient when this will takes effect, then, and in that event, we expressly direct that he shall qualify as such executor, and that his infirmity shall work no hindrance in his acting in this capacity in carrying into effect our wishes as to the disposition of our property, as is herein stated in this our last Will and Testament.

Item Two

We give, bequeath, and devise unto Major George Phineas Butler, better known to Freshmen as the "King," one golden sceptre to supplement his majestic sway.

Item Three

To Mr. Chester Antonius Scruggs we leave one unabridged volume of "McFerguson and Henderson's General Chemistry" to relieve him from any embarrassment when asked an unexpected question.

Item Four

To each member of the Junior Class we leave the entire collection of the faculty's lectures on the "Cures of Senioritis."

Item Five

To Mr. Charles Guy Cordle we leave an automatic head scratcher and a shoulder brace.

Item Six

To Mr. "Empty" Bryson we bequeath one check book already signed; also one tin-type of himself, so that the Annuals in the future will never lack his visage.

Item Seven

To Clem Randolph Hughes we leave the six volumes of "Class Etiquette" written by Mr. Anton Markert and Joseph Albert Bain.

The A R C

Item Eight

To Mr. Wilburn Philip Smith we leave two extra black-boards in order that he may have room to give the Juniors a short test on "Eddie" Poe and "Bill" Shakespeare. We also suggest that Mr. Wilburn Philip Smith be given charge of the Penmanship Department.

Item Nine

To Mr. William Redding Kennedy we leave one package of Old Virginia Cheroots to settle his distracted nerves after heated arguments with Gordon.

Item Ten

To Mr. Lonnie Lamar Fleming, the people's choice, we give an honorary membership in the Richmond Senate to satisfy his passionate desire to become a senator.

Item Eleven

To the student who renders a satisfactory answer to each of the following questions we leave two rapiers. We also request that the said recipient challenge Mr. J. A. H. Begue to a duel.

Ques. 1. Why should students be required to wear blue denim shirts without the Carhartt Overalls to complete the uniform?

Ques. 2. Will Mr. Anton Markert's head be bald if he teaches another year?

Ques. 3. Why does over twenty per cent. of the student body have to attend Summer School?

Ques. 4. Why is the "time" and demerit system so ineffective?

Ques. 5. Why does Mr. Lonnie Fleming go to the library so often?

Item Twelve

To "Peter" Pund we bequeath Gripe Griswold's melodious "horse laugh," so that he may amuse Mr. James Lister Skinner after we are forgotten.

Item Thirteen

To Col. John T. Hains we leave one pamphlet on "How to Keep the Proper Cadence," written by our noted military authority, the Assistant Adjutant Lieutenant Joseph Willard Howell, Esq.

Item Fourteen

To Tubman High School we bequeath one bronze bust of Bill Deas.

Item Fifteen

To Mr. H. O. Read we bequeath the latest edition of Mr. Charles Guy Cordle's "Psychology of the Mind While Proposing," in order that he will be better prepared for his next visit to Agnes Scott.

In witness whereof we herunto set our hand and seal this nineteenth day of May, Nineteen Twenty-Four, Anno Domini.

Once in the Life of Every Man

ALVIN HORNE, thirteen years of age and a true representative of the younger element in America, balanced himself upon the narrow edge of the back-yard fence, which formed the dividing line between the property of his father and that of the neighboring Mrs. Jones. Drawing a sling shot from the pocket of his trousers, Alvin inserted a pebble therein. Then relieving the tension of the drawn rubber bands, caused the pebble to strike forcibly against a suspended and heavily loaded clothesline about twenty-five feet away. His actions completed, Alvin slipped from his position on the fence-top to the ground, just in time to escape the angry, high-pitched voice of Mandy, Mrs. Jones' washer woman, who hustled out into the yard.

"Lawd, Gawd, Mis' Jones!" exclaimed Mandy, "De clo's wire am done broke an' de puffuckly white clo's am lying on de groun'. De wire sho musta rusted, 'cause I looked at it good 'fore I hung up de clo's. De hard luck some po' niggers does have!"

Several minutes later, after giving three knocks, Alvin was being admitted through the battered door of THE HORNETS' CLUB, which was housed in the barn owned by Mr. Krauslich. This fact explains why his son held the exalted position of president in the club. The Friday afternoon meeting was already in progress, so Alvin made his way to an upturned box near several other boys, only to be interrupted by the loud calling of Mrs. Douglas to her son Percy, who was present.

"Somebody's always interferrin' with somebody else's pleasure," remarked Alvin as the disappearing form of Percy Douglas passed through the door.

"You said a mouthful, Al," agreed Spike Anderson, "and what's worse Percy's got to study his lessons when he gets home. His ma always makes him study on Friday, like Sunday was made for somethin' else 'sides a day to go to Sunday School on and to get your lessons for Monday."

"Gosh!" piped up "Specks" Wallace, "Darned if I'd get my lessons on Friday. Why, I'd—I'd—I would. Jus' let somebody try to make me get 'em!"

The A R C

"Percy," interrupted "Red" Spivus, "ain't nothin' but a sissy, no how. Good thing for the club that he's gone."

"I'll say so," assented Paul Snyder. "He even parts his hair in the middle, and everything. Those big glasses of his—"

"Quiet!" demanded Frank Kraushlich, summoning all the dignity of his office; then adding, "Anybody passing would think this was some old hens' meeting. Percy Douglas ain't half the big sis you all say he is. Believe me, it takes a man to study like he does, and put up with that cranky old ma of his."

"Hurrah," broke in "Red" Spivus, "for the—"

"Shut up," reminded Frank. "You're out of order: I have the floor."

"For the president," persisted "Red."

"I suppose we are all going on the hike tomorrow?" questioned Frank. "Remember, it's to be over to Freeland Heights and back."

Before this announcement, Alvin had been unusually silent, but now he let out a deep groan.

"What's th' matter?" asked "Red" Spivus.

"Oh, nothin'," answered Alvin, "just remembered that I've been invited to Elizabeth Crines' birthday party, and that means I can't go on th' hike."

"Darn!" muttered "Specks" Wallace, "now there ain't going to be but five fellows countin' Percy, and I know he ain't goin'. If I was you," musingly, "I'd break that invitation. What's a old party, anyhow? Nobody could make me go if I didn't want to. Why, I'd—I'd—I would."

The meeting ended, each member, with the exception of Alvin, made his way homeward—and to dinner, happily contemplating the outing to Freeland Heights on the morrow.

* * * * *

Saturday dawned brightly. A ray of sunlight stole through a pencil-punched hole in the window shade of Alvin's bedroom, directly in his eyes. They opened with a flash.

"Saturday," murmured Alvin. Then quickly jumping out of bed, exclaimed: "Oh, yes! Today is the day of the hike. I wonder if the fellows are waiting for me? Gee, it must be pretty late." Then suddenly remembering the birthday party, "Oh, hang! why don't it rain! Maybe I wouldn't have to go if it was to rain."

The A R C

After eating his breakfast in silence, Alvin did his usual Saturday chores—and thus the morning passed.

* * * * *

"Oh, Henry," remarked Mrs. Horne to her husband at lunch, "little Elizabeth is giving a birthday party today, and she has invited Alvin. I think it is so kind of her, but Alvin doesn't care to go. And Elizabeth is such a nice little girl, too."

"Huh!" ejaculated Alvin, "she's as ugly as—as an old mule."

"Mule! Why, Alvin! Surely you don't think that is nice for a boy to say about a little girl."

"It is Elizabeth Crines' party," repeated Mrs. Horne, with emphasis on the surname, because of its social value. "Her little cousin Harriet Gresham, of Boston, arrived this morning. Why, Alvin, you ought to be delighted."

Mr. Horne looked at his son. The boy, his eyes glued to his plate, blushed, gulped, and looked unusually pitiful.

"Dear," continued Mrs. Horne, "don't put your elbows on the table, and, for pity's sake, don't put such big pieces of cake into your mouth. If you have finished eating, you had better begin dressing for the party—it is almost three o'clock."

"Oh, how do you do, Alvin?" cried Mrs. Crines. "It was so nice of you to come to Elizabeth's little party. I have a surprise for you—guess what it is."

"Honestly, I haven't got the least idea," evaded Alvin.

"Why, Elizabeth's little cousin, Harriet, from Boston, arrived this morning, and I am sure she and you are going to have a perfectly lovely time. Now, isn't that a pleasant surprise?"

"Oh, yes," confessed Alvin, then quickly adding to himself, "but it is a pretty rotten one."

Alvin had no particular disliking for parties, but as he entered the parlor the big group of boys and girls that confronted him caused a sense of self-consciousness to lay hold of him. But it was only for an instant, because he recognized every one in the room except one girl. She and Elizabeth were advancing toward him now.

"Oh, Alvin, I am so very glad that you came. Mother says that we may dance—oh, I know we are going to have a glorious time, you and I."

Alvin, looking at Elizabeth, "a thin, anemic, cross-eyed and hank-haired child, wearing horn-rimmed spectacles of round, bulging lenses," hoped from the bottom of his heart that she would not undertake to indulge him in the "glorious time" which she anticipated.

Then the inevitable happened. Casually turning to the girl at her side, Elizabeth inquired of Miss Harriet Gresham whether she knew Mr. Alvin Horne. Alvin, who had become fairly enraptured with the beautiful creature who stood beside Elizabeth in striking contrast, awoke with a start from his musings in time to receive a beaming, "How do, Mr. Horne?" from his newly acquired friend, whom he had already learned was from Boston.

Her duty of introducing Alvin to Harriet finished, Elizabeth moved away, leaving the two in conversation.

Harriet, only twelve years of age, but with a sophisticated air of twenty, embroidered the theme of her birth in Boston and attendance at boarding school near the city of New York. This was not her first visit to the South—so she said. Last year she had been to New Orleans. She contrasted it with Miami, Philadelphia, San Francisco, adding the comments of a widely traveled, well-bred young lady. Through the avalanche of these words and opinions Alvin found Harriet's company both enjoyable and stimulating.

"Forgive me for staring so," she cajoled, "but, really, the tie that you have on is quite the most beautiful one that I have ever seen."

"Yah," agreed Alvin, "my mother always buys my ties."

"I suppose she purchased it here in town. My father buys all of his ties at Sloan's; but, of course," condescendingly adding, "you have never been in Boston."

The pair had now moved from the parlor to the large vine-covered porch, where a phonograph pealed out a popular dance selection.

"Ain't music divine!" exclaimed Alvin in an ecstasy of uncontrolled emotions. But Harriet only smiled.

The A R C

After the first dance they made their way to the ivy-embedded punch bowl.

"How droll!" frowned Harriet. "Of course I wasn't expecting to find the punch spiked, but nevertheless to find it without a kick is indeed exasperating." Then turning to Alvin, "Of course you prefer it spiked?"

"Oh, yes," lied Alvin, wondering what she meant by such words as "spiked" and "kick."

Percy Douglas claimed the next two dances, whereupon Alvin made his way into the parlor to sit with several other boys.

"Sorta like Harriet, I see," called Paul Snyder.

"Yeah," agreed Alvin, "she'll pass."

"I think she kinda likes you, too," eased "Specks" Wallace.

Alvin blushed, evaded the question at hand, and exclaimed: "Say, 'Specks,' I thought sure you were going on the hike because nobody could make you do anything.

"Well, you see, when I said that, I wasn't thinking of my mom—she made me come to the party, see?"

Much to Alvin's disappointment, he was unable to have Harriet's companionship for the party refreshments; instead, he forced himself to endure Elizabeth while he looked on in agony at the pleasant time Harriet was making for that insignificant Percy Douglas.

After the last dance of the party, Alvin gained the consent of Harriet to escort her to Sunday school on the morrow morning, then bidding Elizabeth and her mother good bye, left for home.

* * * * *

Sunday, so Alvin thought, dawned even more brightly than Saturday. Strange to say, his mother had to call him only once to awaken him, and that was unusual. Both Mr. Horne and his wife conceived several interrogations, but dared not voice them for fear they would disturb this happy change in their young son. Instead, they chose to remain in ignorance and anticipation because this state of circumstances would certainly not last long.

The A R C

"Oh, Alvin! What a be-uti-ful rose!" cooed Harriet, upon her receipt of a flower from Alvin when he called to escort her to Sunday school. "Just for this you may see me home after church."

Later, while returning home, Alvin cast appraising eyes toward a billboard, smiled, and passed on. On the huge, white expanse, written with a bold hand, was the following:

ALVIN HORNE LOVES HARRIET GRESHAM
AIN'T LOVE GRAND?

—LELAND CANNON.

Richmond Senate

IN OCTOBER of the present scholastic year Mr. J. L. Skinner began the organization of the Richmond Senate. Its purpose was to secure the fifty boys of the school who represent all the best talent of the school. The valedictorian may be seen sitting next to the football guard. The Senate membership was limited to a half hundred, each of whom must be invited by a member and passed upon by the whole body.

This organization has helped to entertain all the visiting teams; stimulate student activities, as in athletics; and have some of the nation's best orators as after-dinner speakers.

With this careful selection of members the society is sure to grow more and more powerful each year and to wield an increasing influence for the uplift of the school. It is indeed an honor to be a Senator.

If Winter Comes

“O wind, if winter comes, can Spring be far behind?”
I am so weak and frail, that, like the clinging vine,
I must needs grasp at anything in order to uphold
My poor, bruised body, and protect it from the cold—
And bitter, withering blasts that ever seek to crush
The spark of life within me and grind it in the dust.
Why must it always be like this; such struggle and cruel strife
Between the sons of God, each seeking the other's life,
And consequently causing a world of grief and pain?
Why not have love and sympathy come forth, and, like the rain,
Settle o'er the earth and bring to all the holy light of God,
And rule once more the lives of men as Jesus ruled,
With truth and mercy.

AUGUSTA, GEORGIA

(Founded in 1783)

STANDARDS—

The oldest educational institution in this part of the South, it has done a notable service in training her sons for more than a century and a third. High ideals of scholarship are second only to the standards of character which are demanded. Adaption of its work to the needs of the individual has been developed to an unusual extent, resulting in a degree of efficiency impossible without such flexibility. This is combined with the long-established policy of requiring a reasonable amount of satisfactory work by every student if he is to remain in the school.

These high standards have been fully justified by the excellence of the records made by the graduates and by well-attested popularity of the school, its attendance having doubled within the last three years. The Dormitory Building will be utilized almost entirely for class-rooms and laboratories required for new students in 1924-25; hence, the boarding feature must be abandoned. However, many students from families living outside of Augusta will doubtless board with relatives or friends here and thus be able to avail themselves of the superior advantage offered by the Academy.

EQUIPMENT—

Campus extending over most of a large city block contains the Academic Building, the Technical Building, the Armory and the Field House; Academy Park on the outskirts of the City is one of the finest Athletic Fields in the South. The science Laboratories, the Woodshop, the Forge and Machine Shop, the drawing Room and the Commercial Department are especially well-equipped for first-class work.

COURSES—

Classical, Scientific, Technical, Commercial and General extended over four years of Standard High School Work and one year of Freshman College work—the latter identical with most of the Freshman Courses at the University of Georgia and the Georgia School of Technology where our graduates entering as full Sophomores have made an enviable reputation for the Academy.

Military Training is compulsory. All athletic teams are under Faculty supervision and coaching.
